LOOK WHAT WE'VE GOT ...

We've got style! We've taken a new look; school starting early, activity period after second period, and going to Norcom to learn a trade. Our yearbook has also taken a new look; color backgrounds. Everyone seemed to be more excited about the new year. The football team and the students were all "Catching The Wave" for our homecoming victory.

Then came exams and the waved stopped. All the students were moaning and groaning, showing everyone just how much we liked exams!

After exams, a new semester started. Warm weather arrived and we were already to hit the waves again. But before we did that, the juniors and seniors stopped off at the Holiday Inn for the 1988 prom, under the supervision of Mrs. Napier and Mrs. Hobart.

All the seniors were then getting tearful but yet happy because they were leaving the secure, fun world of Cradock High School. They will carry the memories forever as the seniors and the rest of the student body take on an awesome look!

For You, Mrs. Joyce Dugan

— For your interest and concern for each student in your class.
— For your time and advice that you gave so generously.
— For your earnest devotion to your occupation, your students, and your fellow teachers.
— For your quick sense of humor and enthusiasm that creates a pleasant atmosphere in the classroom.
— For all the extra time, hard work, and care that you put into the cheering squad.
— For you support and involvement in various school activities such as the pep club, Tidewater Challenge Team, and as Chairperson of the Football Program.

In recognition of these exceptional qualities and attributes, we, the 1987-88 Yearbook Staff, dedicate this edition to you, Mrs. Joyce Dugan, with our affection and sincere appreciation.

Mr. David Joyner, Assistant Principal, Grades 10-12 A.A. Chowan College, B.S.N.C. State University, M.ED UVA

Look what we've got on the administration scene! Two men who have been at Cradock for several years, Mr. Haler and Mr. Joyner. Their experience and ability to work together in an effective manner helped us through a successful year of learning and efficient work.

New to Cradock's administrative staff is Miss Lynn Briley. Prior to her stint at Cradock, she had served as a teacher trainer, principal at Portsmouth's High School Program and eleven years in the classroom teaching english, reading, and math. Cradock welcomes such an experienced and able administrator!

FACULTY

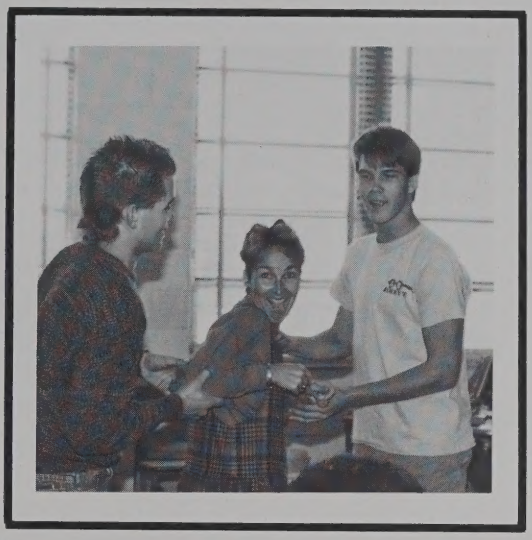
EIGHTY-EIGHT

Look What We've Got . . .

The faculty at Cradock High School took on many new additions this year. Getting rid of mastery learning was a blessing for some teachers because they could go back to their traditional methods. All in all, the faculty made the year successful for both students and staff.

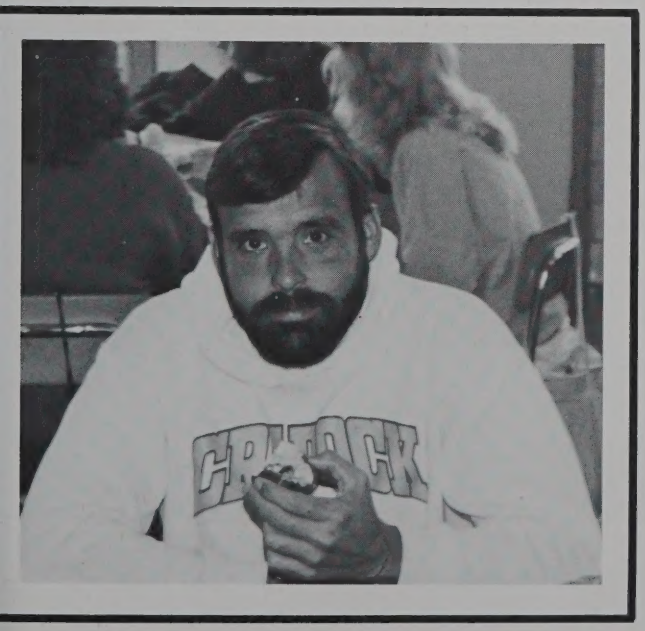


I know you love me, but let me go.

I've got "faculty spirit."

I am the "scuba queen."

Patroling the halls can be a fun task.



Yeah, you do deserve to take my picture.

During Spirit Week

Double Trouble!

Cute and Sweet!

Spirit Week at Cradock High School was the week of October 5-9. The students, faculty, and administrators showed their school spirit by participating in spirit week. Monday was Teddy Bear Day, Tuesday was Vacation Day, Wednesday was Twin Day, Thursday was Surfer and Sailer Day, and Friday was School Color Day. There was an array of colors, costumes, and enthusiasm.

Homerooms showed their overall spirit by competing with one another to build the longest spirit chain. Mrs. Pennington and her homeroom won with 1,091 links. The total length of the spirit chain was 5,440 links.

Spirit was high as students gathered in the gymnasium for Friday's Pep Rally. Students cheered the football players on in the Pep Rally in preparation of Friday night's big game against the Churchland Truckers. The Seniors showed the most spirit by winning the spirit stick.

Admirals Catch The Wave

This year's homecoming "Admirals Catch the Wave" was a big success. Everyone was excited and participated in the activities. The pep rally was full of surprises. The Senior Class won the spirit stick and Mrs. Pennington's homeroom won the spirit link contest with 1092 links. Our Admiral, Bruce Morgan, was catching a wave with his surfboard! The homecoming committee worked very hard with chairman Tiffany Woody and co-chairman Laura Raynor to make homecoming a success. Next, the wave carried us to meet the representatives. Senior representatives were Madonna Peery, Desta Burke, Tracey Smith, Tonya Sykes, Darrell Bazemore, Edward Brown, Mike Stafford, and Troy Waters. Junior Representatives were Penny Carter and Keith Beamon. Sophomore representatives were LaMont Flax and Renee Perry. Freshmen representatives were Shuray Bynom and Marlon Milligan. Eight Grade representatives were Kenny Mathews and Denita Moss. Crown bearers were Carrie Mulder and Lee Luther. At the top of the wave Tonya Sykes and Mike Stafford were announced Homecoming King and Queen. As the wave came to an end everyone stopped to give special recognition to Mr. Fane, the faculty advisor, Tiffany Woody, and Laura Raynor.

SENIORS

NINETEEN EIGHTY-EIGHT

Look What We've Got . . .

The Class of 1988 is now at the top. With the leadership abilities of their officers and the spirit they possess, their class is bound to be successful. Out of the 107 seniors, there were at least 30 honor graduates. Also, by having a large number of students who received various awards, seniors let everyone know that they're the most outstanding class. Taking the Spirit Stick at two out of three pep rallies were not bad examples either.

The Seniors went through a lot to graduate in June, but there is no doubt that they will all succeed.

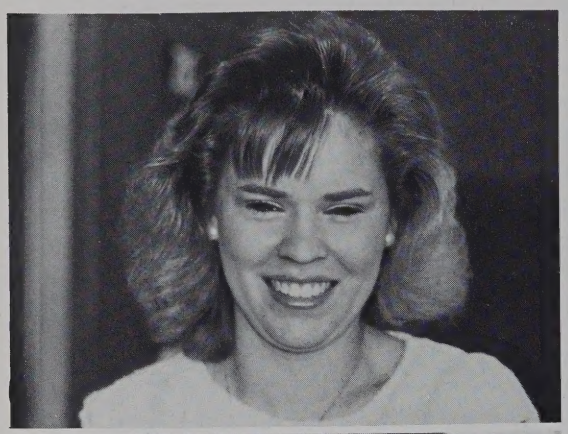
Sherry Satterfield reminds you that seniors have got all the spirit.

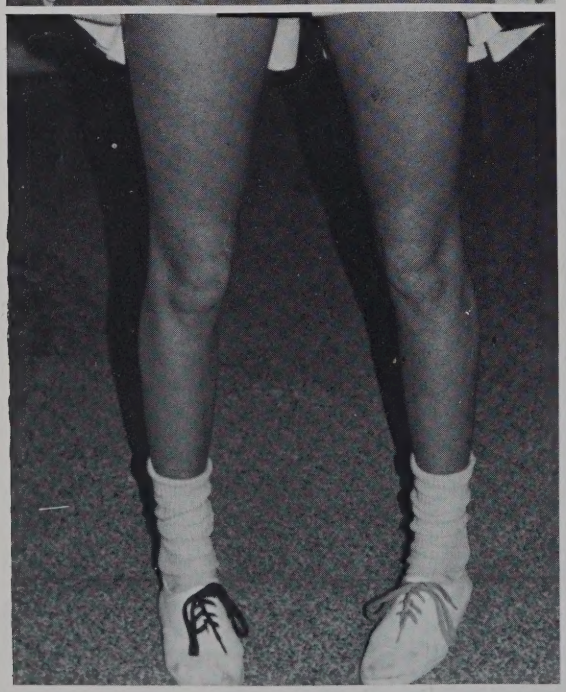
This is what senior spirit is all about.

We will, we will rock you.

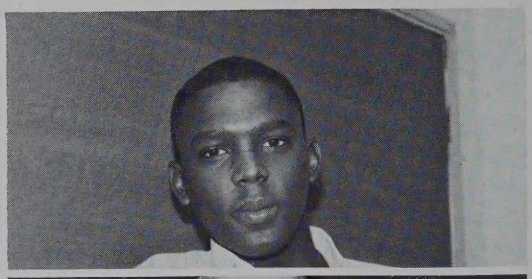
Troy and Brian demonstrate how seniors are supposed to behave at a pep rally.

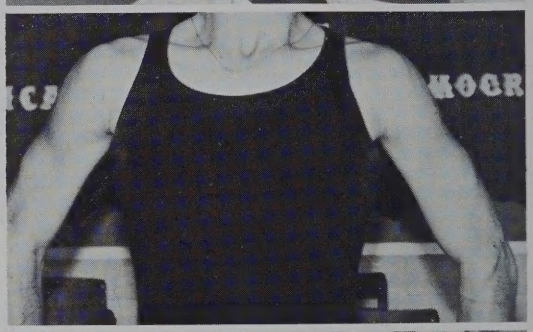
Take A Look . . . The Perfect Senior





To show that the seniors have got it together, they decided to take the opportunity to show you the body parts of a few to display what they've got "bodywide." Can you guess who's body parts belongs to whom?



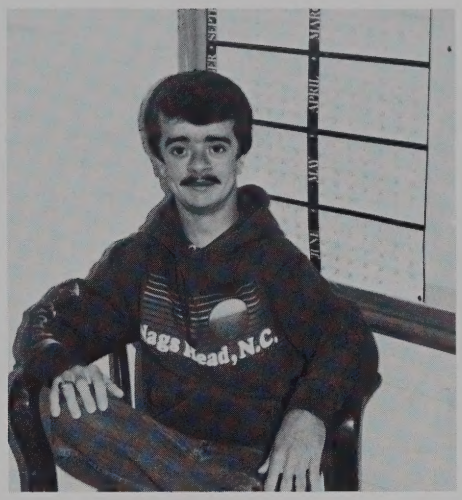


The Perfect Female!

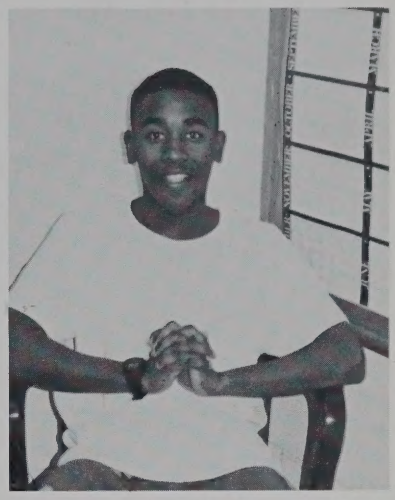
The Perfect Male!

Heading The Class . . . The Senior Officers

Mr. Willett, the senior class sponsor.



Bruce Morgan, the senior class President.



Troy Waters, the senior class Vice President.

Angelina DeBerry, the senior class Secretary.

Rhonda Blanchard, the senior class Treasurer.

With their great amount of experience, the senior class officers were expected and did achieve all of the goals they planned. They are all honor students who have a record of achievement and effective leadership. By planning the class' activities, they exhibited much-needed planning skills. Success was theirs. We wish much more success to them for the future.

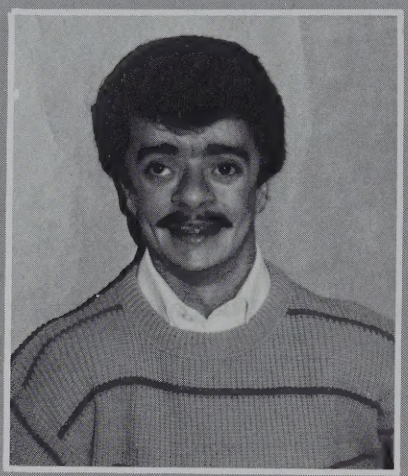
Senior Superlatives



"You get out exactly what you put in." — Bruce Morgan

The ones in the maroon and gold sweats, that's them! The ones jumping even when the team doesn't win, that's them. The ones with the Cradock emblem plastered on every item of value, that's them. That's who? That's Bruce Morgan and Carla Shreaves, the members of the senior class with the most spirit. At every school function, these two people could be spotted among the crowd cheering, their voices echoing across the gym; above the crowd on the football field; and loudly as they say "OUR UNCONQUERED CRADOCK HIGH" when the school sings the Alma Mater.

Not only were Bruce and Carla spirited in appearance, but were quick to defend the Cradock name. RAH! RAH! RAH!

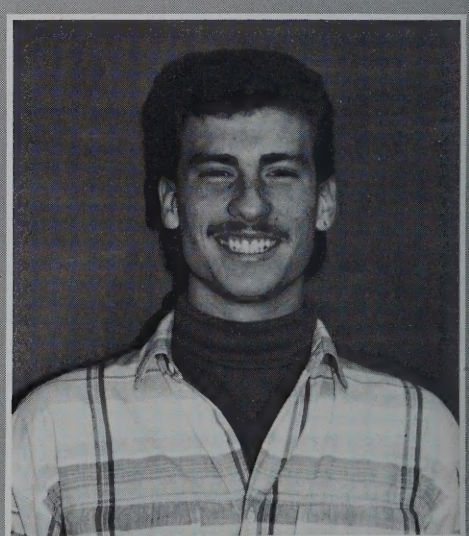
"School spirit is a must to enjoy your years in high school!" — Carla Shreaves

Most School Spirited

Most Athletic

"Thank you. I have always dreamed of being 'Boston Garden' bound!" — Tara Clark

Running for that winning touchdown or slamming in two points before the buzzer, Scott Kelly and Tara Clark displayed only a few of their numerous athletic talents to the community. Scott and Tara have been awarded this title for the splendor with which they completed fantastic feats. The title of Most Athletic includes good sportsmanship. Athletes represent Cradock on and off the field. Scott and Tara lose with dignity and win with grace, thus complementing their athletic ability to be the best.

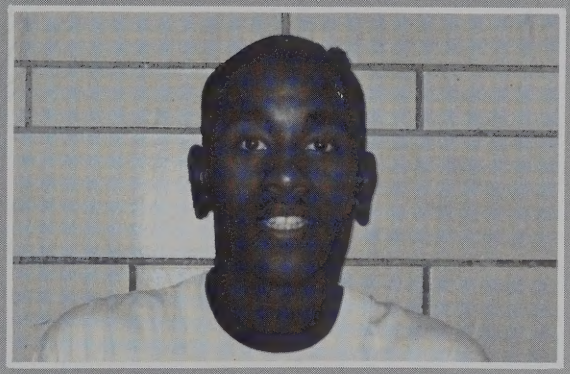


"I want to thank everyone who voted for me. It goes to show you that if you put hard work and devotion into anything you do, you will get your reward." — Scott Kelly

Stand Out

"It is a true honor to have been elected Most Talented. I want to thank all of my friends who voted for me." — Holly Lowrance

"Talent is a gift beyond compare." — Troy Waters



Whether it was winning a prize in an Art Festival, singing in the rain, or acting in our school's latest production, talented Cradock students could be found in all corners of the city. Troy Waters and Holly Lowrance have been selected as the most Talented Seniors in Cradock High School for 1988. Not everyone is born with a hidden talent; and even if one is, it takes perserverance to discover it. These two have found and displayed their talents and thus have reaped the benefits of praise, recognition, and more importantly, self-satisfaction. The excellence in the quality of their work will continually grow. They have brightened our eyes and have contributed culture to the school. Congratulations Troy and Holly, you have both shown great dedication and excellence to the arts.

Most Talented

Most Dependable

Dependable is defined as trustworthy and reliable. The senior class believed that Ernest Madkins and Tiffany Woody fit the description perfectly. Whenever something needed to be done, a teacher or student knew that they could go to either of them. Whenever something had to be kept safe, Ernest and Tiffany were the ones for which we'd search. Dependability is needed to carry on the school's activities and to get the necessary work done. Without these two at Cradock, we wondered what chaos might have happened. Thank you Ernest and Tiffany for always being there. Your senior class really appreciated you.

"I am grateful for being elected Most Dependable. I hope that I won't let anyone who voted for me down." — Ernest Madkins

"Getting the job done is not dependability, it's a must!" — Tiffany Woody

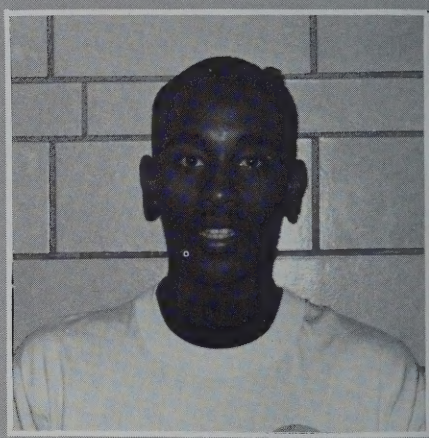
Seniors Choose The

"Being kind to others is always rewarding, especially when your kindness is returned." — Kiesha Barber

To many of the candidates, including the winners, being friendly was not an artificial trait but a natural, inherent quality they enjoyed sharing with others. Warm, sincere smiles seemed to be there when a low-spirited pal needed someone. To be able to be a friend and not expect anything in return is a special trait.

Thank you Troy Waters and Kiesha Barber for always having a smiling face when your senior class needed one.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." — Troy Waters

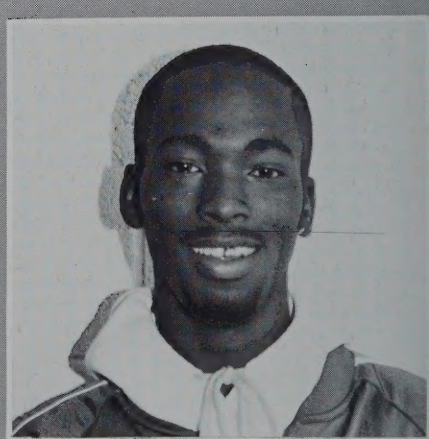


Friendliest

Biggest Flirt

"Guys and flirting come naturally to me!" — Peyton Walker

NO! He's my boyfriend! But she told me that she loved me! Does it sound familiar? Well, if you were talking about Dwane Bazemore and Peyton Walker, it should. These two were the ones were always talking to someone of the opposite sex. No doubt, they were never lonely. Dwane and Peyton loved everyone. That is why the senior class had no problems in deciding that they were the biggest flirts.

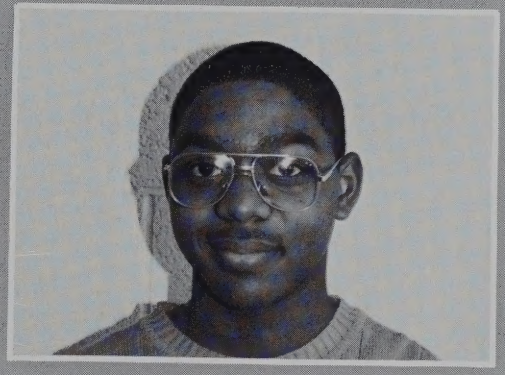


"I've always loved girls. I wouldn't call an interest in them flirting." — Dwane Bazemore

Best In The Class

To "succeed" is to set one's goals and to achieve them. Using confidence, determination, and motivation, success is within everyone's reach. Brian Moore and Angelina DeBerry have been chosen Most Likely to Succeed for the Class of 1988. They were chosen because they have the drive to obtain the goals that they have set for themselves. Once their goals were achieved, they had the courage and ability to set them higher. Their classmates recognized their hard work and have chosen them as having the qualities it takes to succeed. Their success has inspired us all to follow in their footsteps. We wish them luck in all of their future endeavors.

"I am glad my classmates feel I am successful. I will do my best to live up to our expectations." — Angelina DeBerry



"To be chosen most likely to succeed makes me feel good, yet surprised. I am pleased that my classmates consider me a future success." — Brian Moore

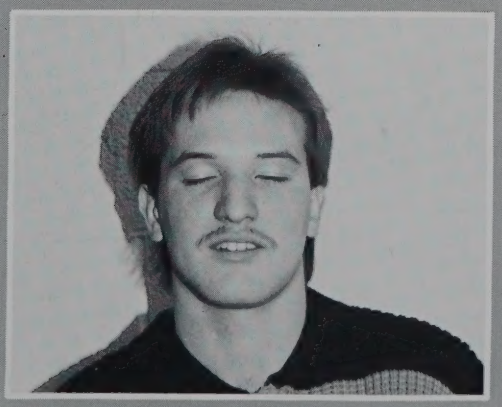
Most Likely To Succeed

Most Scholastic

"I'd like to thank the Senior Class for recognizing my academic excellence." — Estella Jones

Most Scholastic — these are elite whose grades are the envy of their peers. Not only have they excelled academically, but they have done so while taking the advanced courses offered at Cradock — courses including Honors English, government, foreign languages, and upper level sciences and math. These are the students who seemed to make time for everything and still be able to "MAKE THE GRADE." David Crittenden and Estella Jones personify these characteristics. Because of their diligence in their pursuits of excellence, they will be rewarded with acceptances into the best colleges and universities in the United States. We are able to bestow upon them Cradock's honor of Most Scholastic. Good luck David and Estella.

"I sincerely appreciate the recognition of my superb aptitude." — David Crittenden

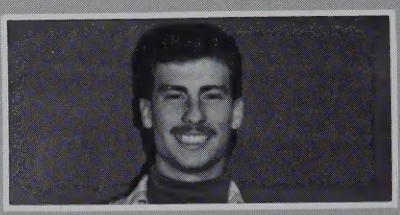


Seniors Have What It Takes

Looks are one of the first things that a person remembers when they meet someone for the first time. This is one of the reasons that pressure has always been put on good looks. Almost everyone admires good looks and this year has proved to be no different. For some, good looks are natural; while for others, it requires much work and effort. Although much emphasis was put on good looks, the inner self was measured with equivalent weight.

Scott Kelly, Patricia Harrell, and Barbara Bandy have been selected as best looking for the 1987-88 school year. Their peers commend them for their good looks along with a good attitude and personality. These three have clearly demonstrated the essential qualities for this honor in the eyes of the senior class.

"Thanks to everyone who voted for me. I'm flattered that my classmates view me as best looking." — Scott Kelly



"I hope my friends view me as attractive on the inside as well as on the outside." — Barbara Bandy

"When you look good on the outside, you feel good on the inside. I'm glad my friends recognize this quality in me." — Patricia Harrell

Best Looking

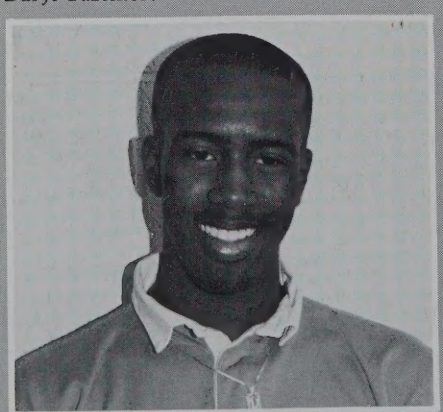
"I'm glad my friends think I dress well. I only try to look my best at all times." — Corey Jiles

Students express themselves in the way they look and dress. Many have had an influence on the fashion trends in school. They have been noted for their outstanding or outlandish way of expressing themselves. Either way, these students seem to stand out in a crowd and get noticed. Corey Jiles and Desta Burke were chosen for just this reason. Their eye-catching style has caught the attention of the senior class. From store to store, they shopped for the look that gave them the honor.

"I am very excited for being chosen, but clothing does not make a person." — Desta Burke

Best Dressed

"I feel very good about being elected most popular of the senior class. I would like to thank all of my friends for their votes." — Daryl Bazemore



"I am happy to have been chosen . . . and I am what I am." — Madonna Perry

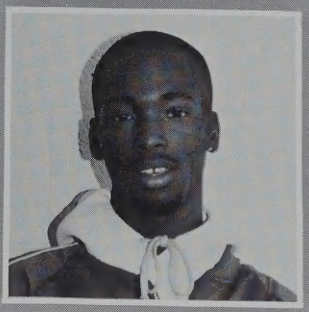
The popular person is the one who is regarded with favor or affection by most persons. Is there any question as to why Daryl Bazemore and Madonna Perry received this honor? No matter where you go around the school, you manage to hear their names; no matter how far you walk, you are bound to see their faces; and no matter who you ask about them, everyone knows who you are talking about. The senior class realized this and therefore had no question in their minds that Daryl and Madonna fit this category. It's not very often that you find someone that a number of people know; but when you find someone that almost everyone knows, you've got to recognize it.

Most Popular

To Rock The Dock

Did you hear about . . .; Did you know that . . .; She told me . . .; and Well, if I were you . . . are familiar phrases if you are familiar with Dwane Bazemore, John Brown, and Shannon Chambers. These were the three who knew what went on with everybody. There were so many people who had insight into the school's "happenings" that three Class Instigators had to be chosen. In a few years, they might not be following the same way doing things. Who knows, when you need to get the dirt on someone, call Dwane, P.I.; Shannon, P.I.; or John, P.I. We're sure they'll be able to find it.

"Information is what gets us through each day." — Dwane Bazemore

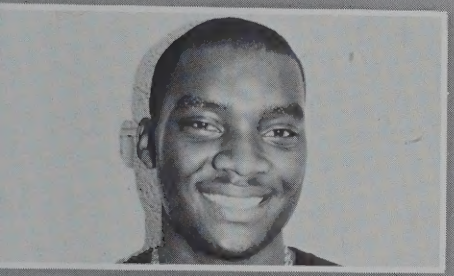


"I am not an instigator. I just like to see a nice and clean fight; no hitting below the belt." — Shannon Chambers

"I was surprised at winning, but it is something I won't forget!" — John Brown

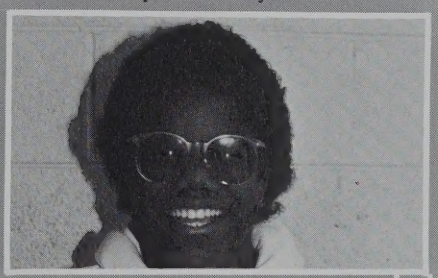
Class Instigator

I act this way in order to make those who are sad feel happy. I on't classify myself as a clown, but as a very happy person (all f the time)." — Gerald Grimes



Oh, what a laugh! That was lots of fun. Gerald Grimes and Synora Holley always knew what to do to bring a smile to your face. We have to wonder if some day, Gerald and Synora won't be comedians. If you ever need a "pick me up", just call on one of the Class of 1988's clowns. They are always happy to give a smile.

"This is a way to make people laugh. Not by acting like a clown, but by being fun to be around." — Synora Holley



Class Clown

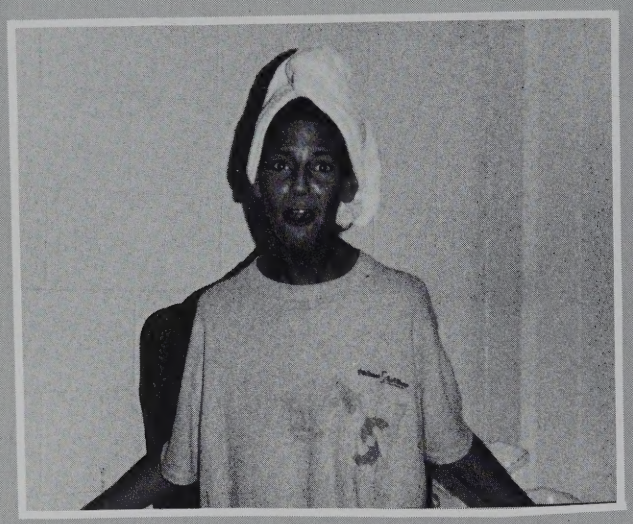
"If you play, play to win. If you try, try to succeed. If you think you can, you can." — Bruce Morgan

If you've got it, you've got it." — Tonya ykes

Throughout the year, students displayed their talents in many activities. Some showed great leadership skills, some were exceptional at sports, and others succeeded academically. When all of these qualities, along with friendliness and conscientiousness came together, the result was a student who was well rounded, admired, and liked by his peers. Often these students were found staying after school to devote extra time to a club or organization. Despite all of the activities in which they were involved, they managed to keep up their grades, and always seemed to have the time to help their peers. This is what made Bruce Morgan and Tonya Sykes the BEST ALL AROUND!

Best All Around

Get Up From There!!!!!

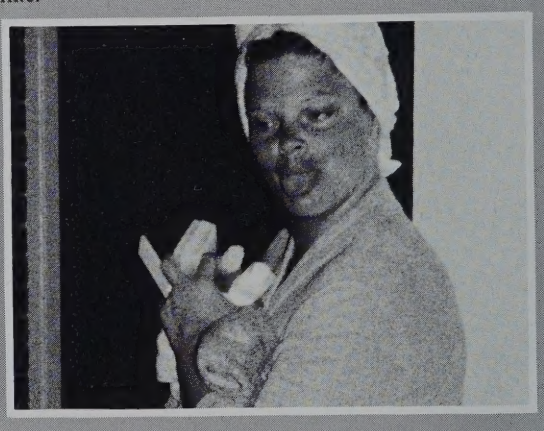


No, I didn't want you to see me this way.

Why do they do this to me?

I've always been happy to get up in the morning.

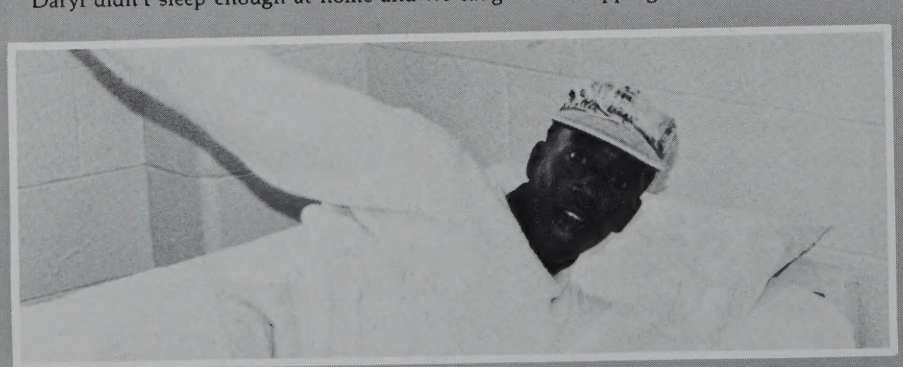
Even faculty members have to get it together sometime.



No, not yet, just 5 more minutes.

Why me?!!

Daryl didn't sleep enough at home and we caught him napping in the nurse's office.



Because this is their last year, seniors must try to get to school everyday. Moreover, they must get there on time.

Getting up at 6:00 a.m. isn't easy, but it can be done. It comes easier for some than for others. As they look forward to graduation, seniors get up from there every day. Graduation will come soon enough. Then, seniors can sleep late and dream about the long gone early morning rituals.

What's In A Name?

Our Holmes, our Rockett, our Bell, and Mr. Rogers.

Each senior made his or her contribution to the Class of 1988 in one way or another. With all of their positive qualities, the class excelled. Even when there was a missing link, the class managed to find alternative qualities of equal importance, and here they are.

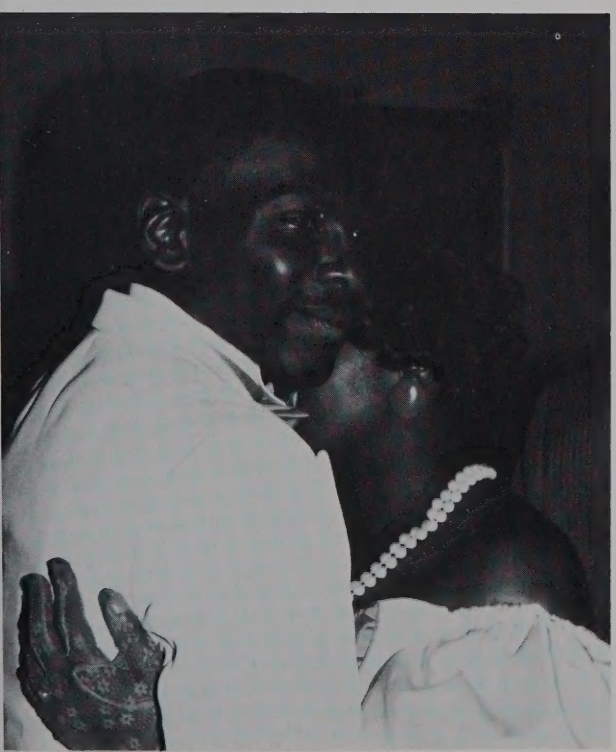
Precious Moments

The Junior-Senior Prom was held on a Saturday evening, May 30, 1987. The junior class this year was under the leadership of a new sponsor, Mr. David Willett. With his guidance, the class raised funds to produce a very successful and unique prom. Class dues and doughnut sales helped finance this major production.

It was held at the Portsmouth Womens Club and was catered by our very own Mrs. Pittman, cafeteria manager. The Admiral danced the evening away to the band "In the Pocket." They played all kinds of music, pop, jazz, top forty, and soul. A special surprise awaited the crowd with a solo sung by Holly Lowrance and Shawn Whitaker.

The Junior class President Bruce Morgan led the junior class along with the help of his officers Angelina DeBerry and Connie Baron. Other members of the Prom Committee were Peyton Walker, Tiffany Woody, Lee Grimes, Sean Yost, Carla Shreaves, Barbara Bandy, and Synora Holly.

It's finally over.



Slow dancing can be fun.

To this sophomore, lunch is the best part of the day.

No, it's not an act, she always looks this way.

The future class of 1990 had a very successful year along with all of the other classes. With many honor roll students and the fact that they are the class of the new decade this will bring much luck to them. Also, by choosing Renee Perry and Lamont Flax as their homecoming representatives, they exercised their freedom of choice. Success won't come easy. But don't worry because it won't be long now!

Sherri Skeeter displays her smile because she was proud to be a Freshman.

Freshmen can now enroll in typing class. They are ecstatic.

The Freshman Homecoming Representative, Shuray Bynum.

Tracy Watson is an example of Freshman success. At 14 years old, she has appeared in Teen Magazine and is a member of John Casablanca's Modeling Agency. After graduating, she plans to pursue modeling.

Freshmen success easily seen. Because it was their first year as "Official" high school students, they attempted and successfully made their statement. By making it past the eighth grade level, they showed that success was made for them. Hopefully, they will continue their success through the rest of their years at Cradock High School.

Look What We've Got . . .

The class of 1992 survived their first year at Cradock High School. Though not all students had a successful year, their class easily proved that they were deserving enough to be called Admirals. They made their contributions to the success of the entire school and to them we say "Thank You." Keep up the Good Work. You've got a long way to go!

Participation in school activities was what made this year the most fun. Without extracurricular activities, many students would not have been able to "blow out" their frustrations from an overabundance of studying. Therefore, we thank the sponsors for their time in helping students enjoy school activities.

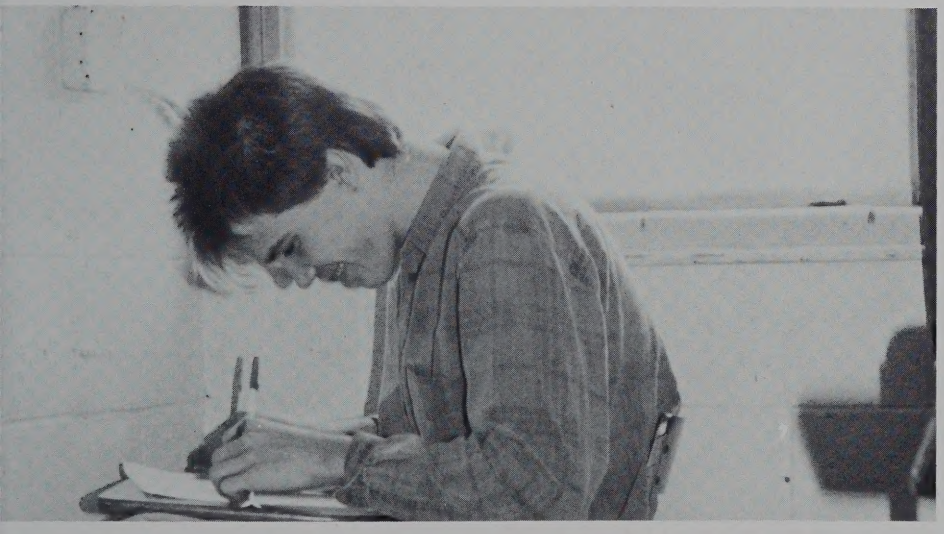
The 1988 Admiral

Which way do I look?

The 1988 Annual Staff was composed of all new members except for two veterans, David Shackley and Angie DeBerry. Although the staff was working with new people, the yearbook was a success. The staff members sold advertisements to local businesses to help raise money to finance the production of the yearbook. Creating a yearbook involves planning layout sheets, researching the activities of clubs, following athletic events and lots and lots of creativity! The Admiral is a 184 page edition of all the year's events at Cradock High.

The 1988 Annual Staff was composed of seniors Barbara Bandy, Carla Shreaves, Laurie Carlson, and Angelina DeBerry. The juniors Sandy Jenkins, Laura Raynor, Shane Bennett, and David Shackley. Sophomores that made up the staff were Gene Sykes, Eric Price, and Brian Britton.

We hope everyone enjoys reading the 1988 annual. It was produced with the guidance of Mrs. Claudia Trueblood.



Regardless of the situation, David works hard to finish a deadline.

Angie, the staff's most experienced member.

The '87 Admirals had a good season statisically. The Admirals were lead by a great coaching staff consisting of head coach Bob Parker, offensive line coach Scott Johnson, defensive line coach David Moss, defensive backfield coach David Williams, offensive backfield coach Jack Kramer, and wide receiver coach Trent Smith.

The Admirals had a lot of tough luck this year by losing by a total of 12 points in their last four games. The Admirals had a tough time at the beginning of the season with penalties, but at the end they showed they had a lot of discipline by receiving fewer penalties.

The Admirals had two players to make the All-District team — Mario Brunson and Carlton White. Mario Brunson went on to achieve All-Tidewater, All-Eastern Region, and All-State honors.

Only nine of the teams' twenty-six players were seniors. They were Ernest Madkins, James Stone, Scott Kelly, Tommy Thompson, Steve Davis, Bobby Boone, Sherman Rice, Dennis Canady, and Roger Williams. The coaches are looking forward to a better season next year because most of the team is returning.

The 1987-88 edition of the Boys Varsity Basketball team was a rebuilding position. The Admirals only had one returning lettermen and that was in Senior Guard Scott Kelly. The roster included 3 other 1st year Seniors. They were Mike Stafford, Dennis Cannady and Duane Bazemore. Up from last years JV team were junior Keith Beaman and Soph. Jeff Baysmore.

The remaining players are all freshmen. They include Eric Vaughan, Johnny Harrell and Darrell Ruffin all were up from last years JV team. The cheerleaders are the support system behind varsity wrestlers. Often they appeared after school for practices, encouraging the wrestlers to practice a little harder.

The 1986-87 Softball Team won four games and was in position to win several more. The team consisted of mostly juniors and freshmen, which is a good mixture for building a team for the 1987-88 season. However, it is not the best for immediate success. This proved to be the case for the team. With more experience, the team could have been a consistent winner and possibly a contender for the title.

A good nucleus of experienced players were: Jodi Barnett Catcher, Mary Beth Rich — Second Base, Estella Jones — Shortstop, Shannon Webb — Third Base, Penny Carter — Left Field, and Tana Kirkpatrick — Pitcher. Newcomers breaking into the starting lineup were Kristin Jordan — Pitcher, Sherri Gray — First Baseman, Evelyn (FE) Burney — Centerfield and Shelly Hudson — Catcher. Other freshmen who could see starting roles in the 1987-88 season were Crystal Burke and Tracy Hill.
